What can I say? Richard taught me so much. Working for him was one of the great experiences of my life. I wouldn't have made it this far in my career were it not for Richard giving me a chance the day he hired me. I was inexperienced but you gave me a chance, and nurtured my development and passion for this career. I use skills learned from him to this very day. I became a more thoughtful, careful person, and a more competent working professional because of his influence. I wish I'd found out about his passing sooner so I could've paid my respects in person, however I respect the privacy of the family. Would've loved to sip a Coors Light with you one more time. Here's to you, Richard. You will not be forgotten by me, for the rest of my life.

I have known Richard all my life. He was my brother, Freddy Cooper's best friend as we were growing up. He was my date for my 8th grade prom, a favor for my older brother for his younger sister. Freddy passed a couple of years ago, so he is waiting for Richard up in heaven. Oh my can heaven handle both of them. God bless the family. Love to all.

I was extremely fortunate to meet Richard over 15 years ago through his son Christopher. I appreciate the love and support that he poured into the lives of the people that he recognized as "family". I am confident that he will be dearly missed by the people whose lives he touched in a special way. Respectfully, Dr. Vergie Matthews Brannon
