I've known you almost all of my life dear Mary. You had such a difficult life, but you had the good sense to surround yourself with amazing people. You have gone to a better place, but the world is now darker without you in it. I will miss you but we will see each other again.

Mary you had the biggest heart for people and animals. We became friends right away and you encouraged me during a very difficult time in my life. I am glad you are no longer suffering but this world has lost a precious person. I love you my friend ...

Stargazers Lillie's, black kittens, old photographs, crime television... these are just some of the things you love. You shaped me into the woman I am today, and I don't know that I am ready to be as wonderful a woman and mother as you were, but I know I am going to try. No one will ever fill your shoes, mostly because you had itty bitty baby feet, but also because there is no one else as strong, charismatic, and beautiful as you. You always had the right answers to all of life's problems, now you're just guiding me from another place. Fly high, without pain. I love you.

My Dearest Mary, I am missing a big piece of my heart, now that you are gone. You fought a long, hard battle but you are now at rest in the arms of Our Lord. I know we will see each other again someday. Until then, we will miss you and love you. Caleb and I will go on, but our hearts will always have a void. You gave me 26 years of happiness and joy that can never be replaced. You were the best Mother to our son and an incredible wife. I promise to raise Caleb to be the young man we want him to be. We love you. Christopher and Caleb
