I remember my little Bro. and his beautiful family coming to see me back when my daughter graduated from high school and I was very sick at the time and didn't get a chance to travel to the different tourist areas with them. I felt so bad because I wanted to show them a great time and I said when they come back to see me, this will never happen again. I will be riding there coat tail and keeping up. He has always been a gentle person always when we came up and he was very nice to everyone. R.I.P. my baby Bro. You will be loved forever by me.
