Jaunita you were such a joy the few times I was fortunate to meet you. I loved your sweet smile and your cute chubby cheeks... I couldn't help but to just wanna hug you and call you Momma. I truly enjoyed your sharing with me all the little stories about you and your family's precious keepsakes. I couldn't believe it when I was told you were no longer with us.... You were so full of life when I last visited with you. You even told Joe and me that you were going to live a very long life ... that you were going to see your son when he would finally get to go back home. I admired you for that...I thought this woman is a strong Momma and I believed you would. I was sad for you when you passed because it didn't come to pass and then I was glad for you to be at your home with the Lord where you'd never feel pain or suffering and be embraced with the Lord's devine love. Juanita, you already know this... about your son Eddie- about him leaving us suddenly today- I really liked Eddie, and I know he will be missed by many. I am sad about both of you and your other son too.... but I am happy for the two of you to be with the Lord together. I wish I had known your favorite color and flower. I will post a red candle for your son Eddie.... red because he loved rubys.
