

William Travlan Carver

NOV 5, 1923 - DEC 14, 2008

Scan to Visit

Table of Contents

Obituary	Page 3
Tribute Wall	Page 4

William Travlan Carver

NOV 5, 1923 - DEC 14, 2008

William was born on November 5, 1923 and passed away on Sunday, December 14, 2008. William was a resident of Fort Worth, Texas.

Tribute Wall

William Travlan Carver

NOV 5, 1923 - DEC 14, 2008

DS

Dawn Stastny posted:

The only thing you take with you when you're gone is what you leave behind. – John Allston The life he gave us as our father, the love and devotion he gave our mother, the unconditional acceptance and forgiveness, even when we didn't deserve it is the legacy of William T Carver. No man sacrificed for and loved his family more. As his daughter, I can only hope to pass down to my children the moral character that he embodied, the kindness and love he was known for, the devotion that is so very rare, and to be half the person I was blessed to Daddy. Most people's lives are shaped by the family they are born into. Some of us were chosen to share in a life we had no birthright to hold. As a child, I envied those that had the "birth parents" that I believed I was missing out on, until as an adult with my own children, I realized I had far more... Walter Scott said "Death is not the last sleep. It is the final awakening." Never has there been a man that loved his wife and children more.

August 24 at 10:50 AM

DS

Dawn Stastny posted:

Never has there been a man that loved his wife and children more. Death is not the last sleep. It is the final awakening. – Walter Scott, Scottish novelist

December 13 at 7:00 PM

BB

Barbara Bauman posted:

He was my Daddy for 66 years and I will miss him very much. God Bless and Keep you Daddy.

December 13 at 7:00 PM

BA

Barbara posted:

William T. Carver had 2 Daughters Barbara and Pamela. He had 7 Grandchildren, 12 Great Grandchildren, 4 Great-Great Grandchildren. His wife Jerline is deceased.

December 13 at 7:00 PM

Memories only last if you share them

Join us in honoring William by contributing to a collection of shared memories.

Scan to Visit

