Pamela Jane Aikens Mount Obituary

Pamela Jane Aikens Mount, 71, of Oak Cliff, Texas, was born in Dallas, Texas, on October 28, 1951, to John and Robbie Aikens. A loving, kind, compassionate and witty woman, Pamela passed away peacefully on July 1, 2023. As a pillar of the Oak Cliff community, Pamela was a light who shined brightly, forging many valuable relationships with people in the greater Dallas area, Cliff Temple Baptist Church, the film industry, gardening groups, and other organizations. Pamela was preceded in death by her parents and sister (Linda Aikens). Known affectionately as “Mimi,” Pamela is survived by her son (Jackson Conaway), daughter (Amanda Hunter), son-in-law (John Hunter, Jr.) grandchildren (Trey Conaway, Emma Hunter, and Blake Hunter), sister (Susan Yarber), loyal Labrador (Sam), numerous other family members, and an abundance of friends, co-workers, and neighbors.

I can't even remember how many productions I worked on with Pam but I will forever remember her gorgeous, infectious smile and how she always knew how to make me smile even in the most stressful moments. She is loved and will be missed ❤️ May her memory always be for a blessing.

I worked with Pamela in the film industry for years. She was ALWAYS wonderful. A bright light. Vivacious. Energetic. Wicked sense of humor. Kind. And simply gorgeous. Loved being able to call this incredible woman my friend. Such a tragic loss. Gone far too soon.

Every birthday, every holiday, every time you came over, you were a gift of light and love. Showing up in cute wedges with your sunglasses on, it was always fun to welcome Mimi in the door. We miss you so much already... forever in our hearts

I met Pam in junior high school. We shared many memories from drill teams to trips with other close friends. She certainly was a beacon of light to all she met and had the quickest wit around. That twinkle in her eye we will all miss. We truly lost a beautiful soul.
