Quinn Capers, V

FEB 25, 1994 - AUG 1, 2023

Quinn Capers, V was born on February 25, 1994, at Crawford Long Hospital of Emory University (now Emory Midtown) in Atlanta, Georgia to Cheryl Armstrong Capers and Quinn Capers, IV. Born with severe cerebral palsy and other neurologic difficulties, Quinn was a great source of love and joy to his parents and to his younger sisters, Christian and Camille. Despite his limitations, he was a vocal baby and as he grew, he enjoyed laughing, music, and riding in cars or being pushed in his specially adapted swing. He enjoyed going on family vacations and traveled as far as the Caribbean Island of Jamaica. He attended a special school program in Columbus, Ohio and “graduated” with his classmates. His sister often said that Quinn represented the “beating heart” of the family, and he was deeply loved by his immediate and extended family members. While Quinn was unable to speak or walk, he had a way of communicating with his parents and sisters, and to anyone who listened intently. After moving to Dallas with his family, Quinn especially liked long family walks at White Rock Lake, and he shared many peaceful moments with his mother at what they considered their “special place”; a shaded spot nestled among the trees and overlooking the lake. Quinn departed this life peacefully on August 1, 2023, at Charlton Methodist Medical Center in Dallas, Texas surrounded by his loved ones. He was preceded in death by his maternal grandparents McKinley and Annie Armstrong and his paternal grandfather Quinn Capers, III. His passing is mourned by his loving parents, Quinn Capers, IV and Cheryl Capers, his sisters Christian Capers of Maryland and Camille Capers of New York, his maternal grandmother Julia Capers in Ohio, his aunts Adrienne Sims (Mickey) of Indiana, Alesia Capers Gillison (Steve) of Ohio, Jenice Armstrong (Cameron) of New Jersey, Carolyn and Marilyn Armstrong both of Maryland, his uncle Mckinley Armstrong, II of Florida, and a host of loving cousins, great-aunts, great-uncles, friends, and former teachers and caregivers.
