Myrble May Brown

APR 3, 1920 - SEP 8, 2024

Myrble May Brown passed away peacefully on Sunday, September 8, 2024. Myrble was born on April 3, 1920, in Arthur City, Texas to Clarence Ross Kinsworthy and Arie Quedelle Kinsworthy whose family would eventually grow to include a total of 14 children.

Myrble married Harry Brown on May 25, 1940, and remained his devoted wife until his death in 1976. Myrble is also predeceased by her beloved sons, Jessie and Jimmy. Myrble is survived by her sister Vignon Ford, her daughters Jannie Vinzant and Jeanie Secor and her son John Brown. She is also survived by over 25 grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren and too many nieces and nephews to count.

Myrble will be fondly remembered for her fierce love of both her immediate and extended family. Myrble was also known for her kindness and compassion to both people and animals often helping nurse both back to health when injured or ill. Myrble was also a fan of all types of music but loved her gospel records.

Myrble is now at rest with her Heavenly Father, but her legacy will live on in all of those that she touched with her love and kindness.

As a childhood friend of Becky's, I was so fortunate to know and love Granny Brown! She was so kind & put many miles on her Grand Marquis bringing us home from school or practice. Granny Brown was one of a kind and I was so blessed to know her! She truly loved her family and always made sure they knew it!
