

Alison M. Craft

April 17, 1938 - October 23, 2019

Alison M. Craft, 81 of Dallas, Texas passed away on October 23, 2019 in Dallas, Texas. She was born April 17, 1938 in Edinburgh, Scotland to Norman Brown and Marion Brown. She married Paul Craft on May 9, 1958 in Durant, Oklahoma. She was a Medical Technologist for 30 years, artist, and devoted mother. She was a graduate of North Texas State College where she was a member of Delta Gamma Alumnae. She and her husband were members of the Dallas Sports Car Club. She was very active in the Dallas Public Library as a volunteer. She is survived by son Martin and his wife Lauren Craft of Taos, New Mexico, brother in law Bill Craft of The Villages, Florida. She was preceded in death by her daughter Leslie M. Thomas and husband Paul R. Craft. She was a lover of art and classical music

Comments

“ Marty, I just want you to know that your mother’s death left a giant hole in my heart. She and I attended operas, sorted books and worked the book sales for over 15 years. All of us from Lochwood Library Friends will miss her very much. She was always there when needed, and she did many kind things quietly without fuss. In a way, she was our sweet mom and made sure we never ran out of tea or cookies. We all loved her.

Patricia Kelcher - November 08, 2019 at 01:07 PM

“ Marty – I am so sad to hear of the loss of your Mom. I never knew when your Dad died. I really loved both Paul and Alison... what interesting people they were. I feel quite fortunate to have known them. What fun friends and competitors they were. They had so many various interests – they were really enjoyable to know. I am a long time DSCC member – and your folk’s car – Spitfire – was completely restored and has won many awards in California because H.C. Connally’s son, Barry did all of the work and has entered it in many concourse events. I thought you were still in California. Just know that many people remember your parents with very kind and loving feelings.

Carol Morrow - October 31, 2019 at 04:27 PM