

Eric William Scott

March 17, 1978 - August 25, 2020

Eric William Scott Jr. has moved on to be with God and his mother, Christy Lankford Scott. He was born March 17 1978, Dallas, Texas. Eric graduated Reinhart Elementary; Gaston Jr. High; Bryan Adam's high school; and attended Texas Tech college. He loved his Denver Broncos, and loved soccer which he played all through school. And he was pretty good at it to, if I might say. He is survived by his parent Eric Scott Sr. and his step mom Ellen Labate; brother Nicholas Scott; step siblings Liz and Larry, Shelly Labate; his wife Jennifer Powell; daughter Dessa; niece Catlin Labate; friends too many to count. Service to be at Restland Cemetery Wednesday 09/02/2020 at 10:00 a.m. There will be graveside only service. There will be no reception. Service will be conducted by Gordon Powell, Melissa's father

“ Hello everyone out there. My name is Aaron Smith, and I really just wanted to say a couple of things about Eric and his brother Nick. I personally haven't known the Scott brothers to long at all, but I can say in all sincerity that these are two solid people. I was fortunate enough to have had a few awesome conversations with Eric about music, people in our lives, and things we have done in our past, good and bad, and what is important to us now in life. I genuinely felt like I had known Eric for years, and I again, I am thankful for the time that I did get with Eric. I'm now have become friends with his brother Nick, and I'm impressed with the level of just taken care of shit, and my hat is off to Nick and just know, Nick is a strong person for the level and amount of devastation thrown at him in this past 3 weeks or so. I hope to continue to get to know Nick, and help in anyway I can. And everyone please do whatever it is you do, pray, chant, or dance a jig for the Scott family, and help get'em through these really difficult times. Thank you Nick, for being who you are, I do appreciate your friendship. Things will get a little easier, but will always be there in the back of our minds. To the rest of the Scott family and close friends, my condolences to you also.

“ I'm just now learning this very sad news. Our older daughters Jessi and Jenny had a lot of fun with Eric and Nicholas when when they visited Ellen's parents at the lake house in Alabama. They were all about the same age, and it was fun. Praying for all of Eric's family and friends. God be with you in the coming days. Condolences, Brenda and Rob Harris

“ Hello! My name is Cora E. Atwood-Baker and the Mother of Jerome and Cedric Atwood. First, let me say how very sorry I am to hear of Eric's passing. Jerome, his Brother Cedric Sr., and I moved up to Dallas from Austin, TX back in the early 90s and Jerome soon became Friends with so many young Boys and Girls and Eric was one of them, including the Bradberrys, Dee O., Carl (Red), and so many others that frequented our house on Friday nights or Saturday mornings, especially when they knew I'd be fixing chili beans, cornbread, mac n cheese, collards and cabbage, etc. What them Boys don't know is, although I worked for the Federal Government in downtown Dallas, I could barely feed us three, but I always found away. God is good. My heart is so heavy right now, but God is in control and He knew it was time to call Eric on in. I'm just so very glad that Eric was in our life...so cry tomorrow, if you must, because weeping is endured for a night, but JOY will come in the morning. I am so very proud to have known Eric and all the wonderful young Men and Women and knowing this, I know that his living was not in vain...he brightened up so many lives...my hope is that, one day, We will all see Eric again...I am so sorry that I will not be able to be there tomorrow, but in my heart, he will remain forever...you Boys be strong and hold one another up tomorrow and God bless Mr. Scott and his lovely Wife, his daughter, and all his Siblings and just know that you all will see him again, some day! Much love from Cora Beth in West Texas! Be blessed and stay safe!
