“ My search for my friend of 25+ years ago, landed me here. I was stunned and very sad to realize that I had missed the opportunity to talk with Lisa again. Those of us who knew and loved her will, in the silence, still always feel her kindness and hear her voice, sharing that soft spoken wisdom. She is a cherished one.

“ Lisa, you were love and acceptance. I could hug you so easily. Thank you for sharing your life with me and so many others who learned from your wisdom.

“ Lisa, my dearest friend and roommate, you taught me so much and I loved you dearly and still. I have known you before this life and I will see you again in the next. You are an extraordinary being who will forever burn bright in our hearts and memories.

“ I have been looking for Lisa for several years now. I finally stumbled across herFB page. I was so close to saying “hi” again after so many years. I cannot believe she is gone....

“ I was really looking forward to finding you and catching up after all of these years. I cannot believe you are gone! I guess I thought you were the kind of person that would live forever! I have tried everything I can think of to find out what happened. To no avail. So this going to have to be my good bye..., I have thought of you often over the years. Always believing we would one day be old and sitting on a porch in rocking chairs laughing about our lives. I was so looking forward to seeing you and visiting with you again.

“ I just found out about Lisa’s passing and am heartbroken to hear it. I worked with her for years at Baylor and was a fellow animal advocate. So sorry Bunny for your loss.
